English 214: Peer Review—Definition Paper

1. What could be added to the introduction to make it more inviting?

2. Find the definition. What could be added to make this stronger?

3. Does the thesis encompass all the arguments made in the paper? What could be added to make this stronger?

4. What criteria does the author set up? What other criteria might be added?

5. What kind of evidence does the author use to back up the argument? List at least four examples and analyze the credibility and effectiveness of the evidence.

6. What kind of evidence could be added to make the argument stronger?

7. Does the author explore the nature of the label throughout time and place? What could be added to make this a stronger argument?

8. What does the author do to reach the target audience? What could be added to reach that audience?

9. What has the author done well?

10. What could the author do to make the paper better?